THE FLAG was raised by Explorer Scouts as the Pledge of Allegiance was recited in Flag Day ceremonies.

Flag Day observed

BY GENE ANTONIO
SOUTH BAY—About 50 people gathered at City Hall Friday to celebrate Flag Day. Mayor Clarence E. Anthony spoke of the American flag as "a beautiful sight" and hailed it as a "symbol of dedication." The city's first Flag Day ceremonies called attention to the country's history and the role patriotism has played through the years. Mayor Anthony quoted poet James Russell Lowell, who wrote that the flag would continue to fly "so long as the ideals of its founders dominate."

In noting the importance of respect for the flag, Anthony commented that "no battle, war, business or activity in any sphere was won without faith in God, country and self." He said that every page of history is filled with patriotism and speaks of the ideals the country was founded upon. As part of the ceremonies the Star Spangled Banner was sung by soloist Jaime A. Garza. As he sang explorer scouts raised the flag. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Chief of Police Roy Humston.

The city's role in Operation Matrimony

BY GENE ANTONIO
BELLE GLADE—In what he termed "a true joint effort," Belle Glade Police Chief Michael Miller this week discussed the city police's role in the arrest last week of 14 persons in a marriage fraud operation. Working closely in the investigation with the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service and the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department, local lawmen acted as "the eyes, ears and legs" in the 18 month investigation. Chief Miller explains that vital information was gathered locally by Belle Glade detectives. He commented that area law enforcement officials had been aware of the marriage fraud scams throughout the state of Florida. When the Immigration Service approached the local department with their plans, Miller thought it sounded like a workable idea. He said, "It sounded like a good idea so we ran with it." The chief notes that his department worked "in tandem" with the Immigration Service. He explains that INS is familiar with the laws governing immigration and are familiar with investigating citizens. But the INS is not familiar with Belle Glade and the surrounding area. That's where local investigators offered their expertise. The chief noted that city detectives know street informants and have contacts in the Glades which the immigration people are unaware of. In this operation, termed Operation Matrimony, the local law enforcement agency got a chance to go for the top people in the scheme. Miller observes that it wasn't the "little guys" his men were after. They went for "key individuals and arrangers." The marriage fraud scam involved U.S. citizens who would arrange paper marriages with aliens living here so they could unlawfully gain permanent resident status in this country. The illegals would pay from $700 to $2,500 to marry a U.S. citizen. The fraud called for ar-

BY GENE ANTONIO
BELLE GLADE—Most people from this area know the danger of remaining in a mobile home during a hurricane. And most know by now that the hurricane season began at the beginning of this month. The local Red Cross, in preparing for hurricane disaster plans, sees a "logical" connection between these two facts of life in this area of Palm Beach County. As the Red Cross Disaster Preparedness Committee looks for Glades people to work at local shelters, it sees those living in mobile homes who volunteer accomplishing one thing—they will be out of the danger of being in their homes and at the same time will benefit the community. Michael Riley, liaison between the Palm Beach chapter of the American Red Cross and the Glades committee, sees a significant danger here because "hundreds of thousands have not been through a full-blown hurricane." The volunteers being sought would work at shelters during hurricanes and could perform any number of tasks. Riley said, "There are numerous little jobs. They vary from shelter to shelter." One of the many jobs is keeping track of vital information on each person who enters the shelter, what Riley called "a paper trace." Other volunteers would help people such as mothers with small children or hand out food. Some volunteers spend time listening to people's worries and concerns. Riley notes that during hurricanes there is much tension and physical as well as emotional discomfort. Scientists believe the depression people feel is connected to the extreme drop in barometric pressure.

The Red Cross is looking for people who are dependable. The main qualification is "a little bit of common sense." The Red Cross Chapter presently has emergency plans and people to work, but it worries that in the event of a hurricane the present workers will have other duties. For instance, the police and fire departments Continued on 2

What you will need in a shelter

The Palm Beach County Chapter of the American Red Cross advises anyone going to a shelter to carry enough snacks and water to last for at least 24 hours, blankets and pillows or a sleeping bag and a change of clothing. Persons on special diets should bring what they need. Also baby formulas, prescription medicines, insulin for diabetics and medication for heart patients should be brought along. The Red Cross will not furnish these items. Also, pets cannot be brought to shelters. The Red Cross advises leaving pets with plenty of food and water or boarding them with the vet. The Red Cross also explains that alcohol and smoking are not allowed in shelters. When arriving at a shelter everyone will be asked to register and list members of their group. The Red Cross also advises everyone to take general precautions for advance hurricane preparations. To learn more about what to do in case of a hurricane, information sheets are available at the Chambers of Commerce in Belle Glade and Pahokee.

City to receive more gas tax money under new proposal

BY GENE ANTONIO
SOUTH BAY—The city has until July 15 to take action on the inter-local agreement for the county gas tax. But whether or not the city agrees with the county proposal, they have to go along with it. City Council at its meeting Tuesday learned that South Bay will be getting double the percentage it received last year. The agreement between all county cities divides up four cents from each gallon of gas sold. City Attorney Thomas Montgomery told council that the county wants action by July 15. Mayor Clarence Anthony pointed out that under the Five Year Plan "most of the projects are in the South area of the county." Anthony observed that whether the city gives its nod to the agreement or not, it will go into effect. City Manager Max Harrelle said the city gets more money this year because it took over a number of county roads in the city. He said, "This agreement includes that lane mileage." South Bay will get .782 percent of county money collected. The formula is based on population. City retirement fund grows

BELLE GLADE—City employee retirement funds are experiencing an "outstanding" period of progress and growth, with returns on investments averaging about 16 percent a year. Terry Rogers of Key Trust, the company which manages the retirement programs for the police, firemen and other full-time city employees, told the City Commission and retirement boards of excellent returns on investments. Meeting Monday to review the three retirement funds, the board learned that all the plans are in the 4 percent profit range for the first quarter of 1985. The management company is pursuing an investment philosophy based on following interest rate trends. Key Trust believes interest rates will move higher in a year, Rogers said. "We're betting on that." He said the company believes the prime rate, now at 10 percent, could drop a half point during the summer. Continued on 2 will have their own duties during a storm. Volunteers would work under shelter managers. Last summer 150 people took shelter training.

The five shelters in the western part of the county provide space for about 2,100 people.

The shelters designated by the Red Cross include Canal Point Community Center on U.S. 441 north of Pahokee Elementary School on East Main. These shelters replace Canal Point Elementary School and Pahokee High School.

The other three area shelters are Glades Central High School and Palm Beach Junior College-Glades Campus in Belle Glade and Rosenwald Elementary School in South Bay.

The local committee also is trying to localize another emergency facility which would serve as a special care center for people with special medical problems but who aren't hospitalized at the time of an emergency.

The work of volunteers "varies from shelter to shelter," according to Riley. He sees "potential for a lot of people to get involved."

He says, "We depend on them," and notes that during a hurricane a city becomes "a little cell" with everyone working together.

Riley comments that the Red Cross in the Glades is "99.9 percent Glades people preparing to help Glades people."

He notes that the Glades, including Belle Glade, Pahokee, Canal Point and South Bay, should become self-sufficient. There is during a storm the possibility that the Glades could become isolated.

Riley summed up the Red Cross goals in its search for volunteers by saying, "We're trying to generate enthusiasm and interest."

the cemetery.

The cemetery, owned by the cities of South Bay, Belle Glade and Pahokee, needs a sprinkler system.

Members of local garden clubs will do the work and the Board of Trustees hopes the three cities will supply the funds.

Trustees Chairman Dudley Barnes told council the cemetery began in 1928 and hasn't had to ask cities for funds until this time. He commented that the recent purchase of a tractor had depleted funds.

Last week the board received $1,000 from Belle Glade.

City Manager Harrelle reported that because of funding problems the city will have to rethink of ways to get money to install lights at Cox Park.

Harrelle, in answering a request for the lights by Vice-mayor Frank Marshall, noted the city work on several streets will cost between $9,000 and $11,000 and another $7,500 is going for new valves and hydrants.

Harrelle also said community development funds for all the projects cannot be obtained.

In addition, the city will have to seek money from the county parks and recreation fund for boat ramps and floating docks planned for the rim canal.

Council heard the first reading of an ordinance which gives the mayor the power to declare a water shortage. Past ordinances did not give the mayor this power.

Agreed to cancel the second meeting in July.

After that drop, a "bottoming out phase" is predicted. Then late in the fall rates will rise.

Tied into this philosophy is the current tax reform program. Rogers told the boards the reforms could bring rates up as the government tries to refinance its debts.

He gave the boards good news on the bond picture. The bond market has been up for some time and continues to show improvements, Rogers noted.

The company put a big chunk of retirement money in the bond market and this has proved a good strategy.

Rogers said, "This has been a fantastic environment to own bonds and you've been the beneficiary."

He said this high yield bond market is something that happens in the market "only about every eight years."

Mayor Thomas Altman questioned the strategy of tying much of the retirement investments into trends of the interest rates.

He pointed out that about half the investments being planned were for three year commitments.

Rogers noted that the city had in the past lost its market flexibility by failing to pursue a financial philosophy which locks in money and doesn't take trends into account.

The mayor gave Key Trust a vote of confidence for the work done with the retirement funds.

Rogers believes this is not the time to go into the stock market "unless you're aggressive."

He predicted "continued progress and growth" in bonds, Guaranteed Income Contracts and other investments.

THE SCULPTURE next to the Belle Glade Library is a grim reminder of the dangers of hurricanes. It commemorates the disaster of 1928.

At the onset of the investigation the INS "didn't know the magnitude of this thing. Then it started to grow."

The marriages were "common knowledge" on the streets of Belle Glade. Most arrangements took place at private residences.

Acting on tips, officials questioned suspected "couples" about "simple things" such as which side of the bed the "husband" sleeps on or whether the "couple" owns an alarm clock.

When the suspects couldn't answer these kinds of questions officials had grounds to suspect they were not living together.

Chief Miller notes that his department "has close ties with the INS at all times."

Working with the Immigration Department, local investigators developed suspects over the 18 month period.

Although the department didn't keep track of the number of hours, the chief said it involved "a significant amount of investigative work."

He said all three agencies would have liked to complete the investigation earlier before the growing season ended and suspects returned to their home country.

He added, though, that there was no way to rush the investigative work. Much of the work was in the paper work involved in indictments.

Indicted as "arrangers" were Cleveland Clifford Davis, 60; Bernice Williams Coleman, 46; Barbara Williams, 29 and Windolyn Reeves, 29.

Key individuals arrested were Okilance Marc Silen, 23; Charite Joseph, 30; Major Casseus, 31; Ivan Daniels, 23; Rose Marie Balise, 25; Solare Theremene, 33; Emanuel Fenele, 30; Gerard Antenor, 50; Desliere Compiluis, 29 and St. Jamias Justine, 28.

Those indicted, and 14 others whose indictments are pending, were behind the fraud. They played roles in arranging the marriages or acted as "spouses."

It is not known at this time if action will be taken, but those aliens involved could face deportation.

Auxiliary cop saves child

BELLE GLADE Police Officer Scott arrived at 802 S.W. 16th Street about 11 p.m. Saturday and found the infant in complete arrest. He immediately began mouth-to-mouth respiration.

His attempts were successful and the child began to breathe on her own. At last report, the child, Laquanda Brown, is being treated at Glades General Hospital.

Officer Scott has been with the Gelle Glade Auxiliary unit since April of this year.

He is a volunteer fireman and emergency medical technician with the Belle Glade Fire Department.

City drug busts continue

BELLE GLADE—City police continued efforts to curb drug trafficking and drug abuse in the city with the round up of 12 suspects on various drug-related charges. The 12 were arrested Friday between 8 p.m. and 1 a.m. and charged with vice-related activities.

Police conducted what they term a "concentrated sweep" in the area of Southwest 5th Street and Southwest Avenue B. Police know this area as a location where illicit drug transactions take place on a daily basis. During the "sweep" officers filed charges of sale of marijuana against one person. They recovered one-half pound of the illegal weed.

Assisted by the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department, officers filed another charge of sale of marijuana against a second person.

Also, seven juveniles were arrested and released to their parents on curfew violation charges. Since the beginning of this month the Belle Glade Police Department has arrested 35 persons on various vice charges. So far 25 felony vice related charges and 24 misdemeanor vice related charges have been filed.

Those arrested in the latest sweep are Lesley Andrew Anderson, 27, 924 SW Avenue B. He was charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana. He was released on his own recognizance.

Dennis Elijah Williams, 25, 949 SW Avenue D, was charged with the sale of marijuana. Bond was set at $3,000.

Rupert Barnett, 33, 633 SW 9th Street was charged with sale of marijuana. Bond was set at $3,000.

George Kelvin White of Riviera Beach was charged with possession of more than 200 grams of marijuana. Bond was set at $1,000.

Robert Lee Key, 748 Padgett Island, Pahokee, was charged with failure to appear on a gambling warrant. Bond was set at $200.

Lakeshore School burglarized

BELLE GLADE—Lake Shore Middle School is becoming a popular place—with students gone for the summer burglars are taking their place.

Three city youths, all under age 15, were taken into custody Saturday after being caught inside Lake Shore Middle School.

City police report the burglary incident occurred about 4 p.m. when they answered a silent alarm at the school.

As police units arrived they immediately went to the shop area. There they found the shop door had been pried open.

At that point other units positioned themselves around the perimeter of the school. During this time the first unit began its investigation of the shop area.

A loud crashing sound came from the boys locker room area. Patrolman Ivey, positioned at that location, saw four young males leave from a side door.

Patrolman Ivey took one of the youths in custody as the other three fled east on foot. A short time later, Patrolman Beckfort, on the east side of the school, saw two youths attempt to climb over a fence. He nabbed these two and Ivey identified them as the two he had seen earlier.

The fourth youth was not apprehended at the school. His identity has not yet been clearly established.

Police say the fourth youth will be taken into custody "in the near future." The three youths, all who attend school in Belle Glade, were taken to Belle Glade Police Department, where they conferred with the Division of Youth Services.

They were released to their parents, pending the scheduling of a hearing date.

Police say no items belonging to the school were found on the youths. There is no report on damage to the school.

The fourth youth being taken into custody will be charged the same as the trio. They face charges of burglary to a business.

In an unrelated incident Saturday at about five a.m., police arrested 23-year-old Rnne Allen Snedeker of 1716 N.W. Avenue F. Place and charged him with burglary of Lake Shore Middle School.

According to police Snedeker was found in room 702 of the school, which he had broken into.

Police found the man hidden behind some plywood in the room. Police used two K-9 officers in the operation. Snedeker was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail under a $1,000 bond.

GCI inmate escapes

BELLE GLADE—Authorities are still on the lookout for a convicted murderer who escaped from Glades Correctional Institution this week.

According to authorities, the inmate, Tauro Coto, 37, made his escape by cutting through a fence with a pair of bolt cutters Sunday morning during visiting hours.

After cutting his way out of the grounds he then ran to a waiting car. The car was later found abandoned along Main Street in Belle Glade.

Coto is from Miami and his last known address was there.

Authorities believe he may be in the Miami area.

He was serving two life terms plus 30 years and had been convicted of two counts of second degree murder.

He was convicted of the 1977 double killing of two Hialeah brothers.

The escapee is described as a white male born in Cuba with a tattoo on his left upper arm. The tattoo reads "Maria."

He is five-foot-ten and weighs 180 pounds. He has a stocky build and ruddy complexion.

Editor:

As a member of the School Board of Palm Beach County, it is important to convey many of the needs of public education, as perceived by this writer, so the taxpayers and owners of the school system have the opportunity to assist in filling them. My belief is that no government can rise above those that are governed. The greatest need is local control of education. This was acknowledged by the Florida Legislature some years ago. Unfortunately, the "Home Rule" legislation that was passed has been forgotten in many instances. The belief that government closest to the people is the best government, in my opinion, is still true today.

Yet, funding sources, textbooks, the budget, construction plans, graduation requirements, operating rules, capital outlay needs, teacher salaries, school bus bumber color, curriculum, to name a few, are still under state control. I submit that local people know what is best for their schools. The next greatest need is equitable distribution of state tax dollars for education. Large urban counties continue to pay a disproportionate share of school taxes in most cases. Unless this problem is addressed soon, all school taxes will be collected locally. Further, this district has a 600 million dollar need for school facilities. That is today's need and dollar. Growth will compound this problem.

Finally, a program to produce additional quality teachers in our higher education institutions can no longer be ignored. If every student in the colleges of education were to enter the teaching profession, a serve shortage would continue to exist. This is particularly true in the Science, Math, Special Education and Vocational areas, to name a few. Sincerely, Louis J. Eassa, Chairman The School Board of Palm Beach County

Cancer benefit

Dear Mr. Gonzales, The donation of a Fisher Video Cassette recorder to the Belle Glade Branch of the American Cancer Society provided an excellent opportunity for us to do a fund raiser at the Black Gold Jubilee. We had 1,000 tickets printed and sold every one at $100.00 each. The generosity of companies like Glades Video in support of the American Cancer Society means that like saving programs of Research, Education and Service and Rehabilitation can continue here in Palm Beach County. Together we are winning! Again, thank you for your kind support of the American Cancer Society.

Who's the great Satan?

I can't help but wonder what it is about America that makes it so hated in the rest of the world?

We see ourselves as the good guys, the ones who believe in God, justice, motherhood, and the work ethic. We love our children. And contrary to some countries where dog is considered a delicacy, we think of him as our best friend.

It comes as a surprise to hear that some guys in turbans, beards and robes halfway around the world are calling America "the great Satan."

In this country, we would take someone like that, especially if we were brandishing a loaded rifle, and lock him up for his own, and society's, protection.

Somewhat, "Great Satan" just doesn't coincide with our self image.

Why is it, we wonder, that the U.S.S.R. or one of the other countries in the world committed to revolution, terror, and upheaval aren't singled out as the "great Satan."

The whole thing is just about as incomprehensible as the rocks and curses thrown at the Pope on a recent trip to the Netherlands.

What did Christianity's single, most visible figure do to deserve that kind of treatment? Was it his opposition to abortion and birth control? You have the feeling that no one in Teheran would dare treat the mean, old Ayatollah that way.

And what about the deaths in the Belgian soccer stadium? How do you explain what the English fans did?

Whoever it was that said life ain't fair made a monumental understatement.

As I write this, we have another hostage situation unfolding in the Middle East.

We have innocent people, pilgrims to the Holy Land and tourists, being held by a fanatical and murderous group of men who dare identify themselves as belonging to Muslim religious sect.

How much further can perversion go than to claim to follow God, in this case referred to as Allah, and then kidnap and murder innocent people in the name of a holy war or jihad? It's an obscenity even to combine the two words "holy" and "war." War is about an unholy activity as people can involve themselves in.

BOILER PLATE

Intellectuals will sit back and tut-tut over why Americans flock to movie theaters to see blood and guts movies like the current "Rambo."

It's because they want to see the good guy take care of the bad guys for once. It's too bad the situation in Lebanon cannot be resolved by Rambo. That's as much fantasy, in its own way, as any fairy tale ever written.

But we cannot prevent madmen from running amok. It is a bit puzzling, however, how the gunmen got on that airplane with their instruments of terror undetected until they began intimidating people.

In reality, the United States government with all its might appears as powerless in this situation as we are individually back here in the Glades.

We have too much love for human life to squander the innocents who have been spirited away into the slums of Beirut.

All we can do is pray that everything works out. And in the end know that somehow right will prevail.

Of God or not?

Dr. David T. Evans

Everglades Presbyterian Church

Why don't we know God? We think we do! We don't allow ourselves to get to know Him. It has to be a personal experience.

Some of the reasons are as follows: We don't pray to Him. We don't give Him much thought. We don't feel His presence in our lives, or if we do, this doesn't happen very often.

Probably most important, we don't act like we know Him. Some of us are afraid to let people know we are God's children, and therefore different. Still more important and sometimes almost fatal is the fact we aren't convinced deep down we are heirs of the covenant - children of God.

Well then, how do we get to know God and become of God? We who have accepted Christ have somehow thwarted the Holy Spirit from working in us. If we don't know Christ, we haven't accepted Him, open the door of your life and let Him in.

Whether we have just accepted Christ or had a nodding acquaintance with Him for many years, we all need to be closer to Him. This comes through continual practice of prayer, meditation, study, and worship.

You can't be a Christian without practice and in seclusion. There is no automatic process - only daily struggle, and communication with God. God also put His church here because He knew that there is strength in numbers. We grow by loving, living, and working together as Christians.

Underlying all this is the Holy Spirit. We must allow the Spirit to work through and within our lives. The Spirit can convince us of belief in Christ, which means to be of God. We must be of God or we are lost. There is no alternative that we would want.

City to receive more money

BELLE GLADE—The City Commission has negotiated a 30-year franchise agreement with Florida Power & Light Co.

The city commissioners signed the ordinance at a special meeting Tuesday. The agreement could mean an additional $20,000 in income for the city.

The agreement calls for the power company to pay its franchise fee in monthly installments. The last arrangement had the company paying at the end of each fiscal year.

The city believes that under the new terms it can invest the additional thousands of dollars. This could spell additional revenues for the city, according to City Manager W.E. "Tommy" Strang.

Florida Power & Light currently pays Belle Glade $425,000 a year as a franchise fee. This is based on a formula which takes 6 percent of the gross revenues from residential and commercial customers.

The franchise agreement expired Monday. The commissioners held the meeting then to afford the city a smooth transition into the new arrangement.

Negotiations began in 1984 for a new franchise agreement. The payment plan is the major change.

Franchise agreements with cities are used by the power company to finance improvements in the electrical system. The power company says it requires a stable fee rate to support upcoming bond issues.

Two weeks ago a public hearing was held regarding the franchise agreement. No one had any objections to the agreement.

City to curb fee refund policy

BELLE GLADE—The City Commission plans to curb the practice of routinely refunding fees for use of the city-owned pavilion.

In the past non-profit agencies and organizations have petitioned the commission to have the fee refunded. In every case the city leaders have agreed to return the fee.

At the last commission meeting, however, the initial discussion of what might spell the end of gratis use of the pavilion came up.

Mayor Thomas Altman said a policy of some kind should be set. He noted that it costs the city money to maintain the pavilion.

The mayor also questioned whether all those using the pavilion without charge are truly non-profit organizations.

He spoke of "so-called non-profit organizations" using the pavilion.

Commissioner Charles D. Goodlett backed up the mayor. He noted that often times people who want to use the pavilion on a paying basis cannot get it because it is booked by non-paying groups.

Although no discussion of what the policy might be has been discussed yet, the commission plans to deal with the issue in the future.

Until then, organizations routinely get refunds on the fees they pay to use the city pavilion.

Felony retail theft charged

Pahokee woman was arrested by Belle Glade City police Saturday and charged with felony retail theft.

Police report Freddie Mae Jackson of 130 Shive Drive in Pahokee had taken some meat and put it under her dress and walked out of U-Save Supermarket on Southeast Avenue E.

Police arrived at the supermarket about 1:30 p.m. Saturday and were told by store employees Albarity Suarez and Mark Maurice that they had seen Jackson take the meat.

They told police they had chased her to the 500 block of Southeast 5th Street.

They met City Patrolman C. Kamstra at that point. He searched the woman's purse and recovered $31.46 worth of meat.

Back at the police station an investigation revealed Jackson had been arrested five times and convicted five times for retail theft.

She was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail under a $1,000 bond.

Glades fishing report

The waters of Lake Okeechobee continue to drop. We lost another six inches this past week. I've heard reports from some fishermen who have caught bass by walking their boat and fishing the spots of grass around the Buzzard Roost.

Last Friday, Don Brock of B.J.'s Bait and Tackle, took a day off and went fishing. His efforts produced three bass, all of six pounds caught on worms.

Ed Back of West Palm Beach came out Saturday and went home with a 10 1/2 pounder and a seven pounder brought in on top water lures.

My favorite fish story, which happens to be true, centers around Mark "Big Man" Challancin, 14 year old son of Mike and Dona Challancin.

TENNESSEE

Compliments of Tennessee's Pro Guide Service

He went late the other afternoon equipped for a hawg with his "ultra-light" rod with all of six pound test line on it.

Fishing with a black grape worm; imagine his surprise when he hooked and hauled in an eight pound, nine ounce bass.

After having his picture made and being the good fisherman he is, he released his fish. Thanks from all the fishermen "Big", you showed good sportsmanship.

The Lake Okeechobee Tackle Testers had their monthly tournament out of J-Mark's Fish Camp. First place was taken by Abbo Peacock while H.L. Barber came in second and Pablo Sanchez finished third.

Congratulations! Bluegill fishing is still at a peak with limit catches being brought in every day. Shellcrackers seem to be off the beds right now and few of them are being caught, however, for some reason, the specks are still with us and are there for the taking.

With the weather as hot as it is, when you go out fishing, be sure and take along plenty of water, and sun screen. In the 90 degree heat, it doesn't take long for your body to start dehydrating. Until next week, safe boating and good luck fishing.

GLAD'S FOOD PATIO BRUNCH

REV. JOE THOMPSON

His favorite recipe

Reverend Joe Thompson has been the pastor of the First Pentecostal Church for 6 1/2 years. He and his wife, Della, have three children and one grandchild. Reverend Thompson is also the owner of Joe's Meat Market. Here is a recipe he says you just can't beat.

Pepper Steak
Any type of beef cut into thin strips, against the grain of the meat.
1 bell pepper, finely chopped
1 onion, finely chopped

Garlic powder
1 small can tomato sauce
Flour
Water

Saute onion, bell pepper, and garlic powder in pan. Add tomato sauce to mixture.

Add beef, which should fry quickly because it's cut thin. When beef has cooked, add enough flour and water to form a gravy. Allow mixture to simmer for about 10 minutes. Remove from pan and serve over plain rice.

PATIO BRUNCH

Nothing says style quite as eloquently as dining alfresco. Brunch served on the patio gives a marvelous excuse for bringing out the brightest, happiest, most colorful place-mats, cloths and napkins you own.

But every memorable hostess knows the true key to a knock-em-out reputation: develop a specialty that guests can anticipate. Desserts take the cake.

Ambrosia Loaf from a pound cake mix adds sate to a sunny summer brunch. Or Grasshopper Angel Cake is an impressive, do-ahead dessert. Either is a specialty that will live up to the occasion of your next brunch.

Ambrosia Loaf

1 package Betty Crocker golden pound cake mix
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
2 eggs
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 medium banana, mashed (about 1/2 cup)
1/2 cup diced orange sections
1/4 cup flaked coconut

Heat oven to 325°. Grease and flour 1 loaf pan, 9x5x3 inches, or 2 loaf pans, 8 1/2x4 1/2x2 1/2 inches. Beat cake mix (dry), orange peel, eggs, lemon juice and banana in large bowl on low speed, scraping bowl constantly, until moistened. Beat on medium speed, scraping bowl frequently, 3 minutes. Fold in orange pieces.

Four batter in pans; sprinkle with coconut. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 9-inch loaf 65 to 70 minutes, 8-inch loaves 55 to 60 minutes. (Crack top of loaf is characteristic.)

tic). Cool 10 minutes; remove from pans. Cool completely before slicing.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Heat oven to 350°. Stir 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour into cake mix (dry). Beat in 1 tablespoon water with the banana. Bake 9-inch loaf about 65 minutes, 8-inch loaves about 50 minutes.

Grasshopper Angel Cake

1 package Betty Crocker white or confetti angel food cake mix
3/4 large marshmallows
3/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons white creme de cacao
2 tablespoons creme de menthe
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups chilled whipping cream
Few drops green food color

Toasted slivered almonds
Bake cake as directed on package. Immediately invert pan on heatproof funnel or bottle until cake is completely cool; remove from pan. Split cake to make 3 layers. (To split, mark side of cake with wooden picks and cut with serrated knife.)

Heat marshmallows and milk in 2-quart saucepan over medium heat, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted and mixture is blended. Remove from heat; refrigerate until thickened. Stir in creme de cacao, creme de menthe and salt.

Beat whipping cream in chilled bowl until stiff, fold in marshmallow mixture and food color. Fill layers and frost top and side of cake. Sprinkle almonds over top. Refrigerate at least 1 hour. Refrigerate any remaining cake.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Heat marshmallows and milk in top of double boiler over boiling water until marshmallows are melted and mixture is blended. Refrigerate 15 minutes; stir. Refrigerate until thickened.

Tandoori Salad

Tandoori Salad is a quick and easy meal that looks extra special served inside a fresh pineapple. Sweet-tart fresh pineapple leaves with crisp, tangy apple slices and chunks of tender chicken. Remember that pineapple acts as a natural tenderizer—don't let chicken chunks sit too long with fresh pineapple and juices.

TANDOORI SALAD

1 medium Dole Fresh Pineapple
1 1/4 cups shredded cooked chicken
1 large red apple, cored and sliced

Tandoori Dressing

Cut one-third off side of pineapple lengthwise, leaving crown intact. Remove fruit from both sections with a curved knife, leaving shells intact. Core and dice fruit. Toss pineapple with chicken and apple just before serving. Spoon into large pineapple shell. Serve with Tandoori Dressing. Makes 4 servings.

Tandoori Dressing

1 carton (8 oz.) lemon yogurt
2 tablespoons chopped chutney
1/4 teaspoon mint flakes
1/4 teaspoon ground coriander

Combine all ingredients until blended.

BACK TO BASICS COOKING

During the early 1900's, the place de resistance of many sumptuous Southern Sunday breakfasts was fried chicken. Also served were scrambled eggs, bacon, biscuits, creamy gravy, waffles or pancakes! Times have changed, but Southern fried chicken is still considered a favorite—although for dinner. In this updated recipe, turkey breast cutlets have been substituted for the chicken. Before cooking, the cutlets are lightly marinated in naturally brewed Kikkoman Soy Sauce and bourbon whiskey. You may be surprised at the combination, but the natural richness and flavor enhancing qualities of brewed soy sauce blends with the bourbon for a deliciously distinctive flavor. And, our creamy milk gravy also gets its richness and zip from the brewed soy sauce. Add garden fresh peas, tender young carrots and steaming hot biscuits and you'll have an old-fashioned dinner with an upbeat flavor that can't be beat.

TURKEY BREAST CUTLETS WITH CREAM GRAVY

4 turkey breast cutlets*
3 tablespoons Kikkoman Soy Sauce, divided
1/4 cup bourbon whiskey
All-purpose flour
5 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 1/2 cups milk

Place cutlets in single layer in shallow pan. Combine 3 tablespoons soy sauce with bourbon; pour over cutlets. Turn each piece over to coat well. Marinate 15 minutes, turning cutlets over occasionally. Remove cutlets and coat top with flour. Add cutlets to hot oil in large skillet over medium-high heat; cook 4 minutes on each side, or until tender. Remove and drain on paper towels, keep warm. Blend milk, remaining 2 tablespoons soy sauce and 1 tablespoon flour; pour into same skillet, stirring to remove crusty bits. Cook and stir until mixture boils and thickens. Serve gravy with cutlets. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

*Or, use a 2 1/2 to 3-pound turkey half breast, skinned, boned and cut lengthwise into 4 or 5 equal pieces.
